KILLERS SHOULD BURN ALIVE, FRANKS IS TOLD

More than 1,000 letters of condolence and sympathy have reached Jacob Franks since his son, Bobby, was murdered by Nathan Leopoid Jr. and Richard Loeb, he declared yesterday. Ninety per cent of them express a desire to have the slayers hanged. He displayed one yesterday, from a woman saying, "such murderers ought to be burned alive." Mr. Franks declared reports that he would sell his house and leave Chicago absolutely without foundation. He wishes to take Mrs. Franks away for a time, but will rg.

An Interesting Advantage of

ALLINOIS MERCHANTS TRUST CO. Survivorship Savings Accounts

not fully appreciated by many people

A SURVIVORSHIP SAVINGS ACCOUNT with the Illinois Merchants Trust Company is an ideal arrangement for husband and wife, or for any two people whose interests are mutually dependent, because it permits either one to make withdrawals from the account at any time.

In case of the absence of either person, or in the event of accident or other emergency, the other still has free access to the account.

Likewise, upon the death of either person, the fund may be withdrawn by the survivor without probate proceedings.

The possession of ready cash, so important at such times, can be assured in no better way than through a Survivorship Savings Account,

Such an arrangement gives not only a sense of personal security but also the satisfaction of knowing you have provided an additional measure of protection for your dependents.

Our officers will be glad to explain to you in detail exactly how you would benefit from a Survivorship Savings Account in the Illinois Merchants Trust Company.

Announcement

We have added another entire floor of our building to our School of Beauty Culture. This enables us to take care of the large increase in pupils that have already enrolled for September.

The beautiful space which we are giving to the School was formerly our celebrated Turkish Bath Department. It is surrounded by windows and is deightfully cool and at-

E. BURNHAM graduates will open shops or accept positions in shops already established. We will have a complete staff of instructors and lecturers in this new division and our graduates will have every advantage possible. Enrollments are already in progress and will continue every day throughout the year, as students may enter any time.

The Manufacture of Beautiful Hair Goods will be a very important addition to this wonderful School. There will soon be a tremendous demand for extra hair pieces and every shop should put in a department for the sale of these pieces. It behooves the new shop owners to keep up to date in this respect as well as in all the latest styles in hairdressing, etc.

Below we list a few of the Fortune Building subjects which will be taught in this new division:

of society. The definition of our purpose is clear.

The application of it is feeble, ineffective, or futile.

Probably one element of weakness is the unreasonable and loud expression of opinion at home which seizes every opportunity to condemn America as a booted and spurred conqueror whenever it endeavors even half-heartedly to apread the rules of civilization in disorderly lands where it has responsibilities.

An American administration which tolerates disorder, injustice, violation of treaties and compacts, promises and solemn agreements, which allows the jungle and its appetites to have control, never gets into trouble at home because of that an administration which would try to put life on a higher plane in adjacent lands would produce a hysteria of sentimentalism Francis Burton Harrison, the faineant governor of the Philippines, never got into any trouble at home for allowing the islands to lapse into native vices with a return of plagues and a drift toward bankruptcy, but Gen. Wood, in remedying this, has been denounced all over America.

MAKE MOTORING EASY.

The chairman of the rapid transit commission of Detroit has written to THE TRIBUNE a letter which we reproduce in the Voice of the People column today, which is worthy of the attention of the hundreds of thousands of automobile users in this territory. As a close student of transportation, and especially of automobile transportation, his linus poisoning. Care in the selection of observations should command attention.

In the final analysis he reduces the transportation problem, with reference to automobiles, to prevent most of the trouble. Cooking to one issue—that of adequate roadways. That is a high enough temperatures before canpoint which THE TRIDUNE has been endeavoring ning would prevent practically all trouto impress upon its readers for years. All will agree that the automobile is an institution which has come to stay, and which has accomplished "Our Country! In other words, we must have wider and smoother and more numerous roadways within the cities and leading ut of the cities.

The widened roadway from Detroit to Pontiac, of which our correspondent writes, is illustrative. Detroit needs that, and many others. Chicago needs innumerable similar improvements. Poose velt road, for instance, at and beyond the city limits could quite properly be double its present width and still be used to its utmost. The same is true of Milwaukee avenue on the outskirts of the city, and of various roads running to the forest preserves and into main country highways.

A lack of adequate road space alone is impairing almost universal enjoyment of and profit from automobiles. We had as well make up our minds to correct that deficiency and get all that there is to be gotten from this phase of life

CANAL TRAFFIC AND TOLLS.

The traffic through the Panama canal shows ar enormous increase over 1923. There was an increase of 31.8 per cent in the number of vessels passing through, 40.5 per cent in net tonnage, of breaks due to other cans of this lot of 38.7 per cent in tolls, of 37.4 per cent in cargo carried.

The bureau of chemistry, with which Mr. Thom is connected, investigated canned spinach as a cause of botulinu oisoning. This investigation was made by Koser and others.

When spinach contains botulinus poison because it was not properly cleaned and properly heated before it was canned, produces gas in the can. As a rule e gas production causes the can to bulge. If the can of spinach is kept in refrigerator it develops gas slowly. It is possible that cans containing infected spinach kept in the cold might de velop enough poison to slightly poison before they would develop enough gas to make the can bulge. But that is not

In running down outbreaks of botulinism due to eating canned spinaoh, the bureau found that in several instances extensive spoilage had occurred and that these lots had been sorted over and salvaged several times. In one instance, 590 cases of spinach out of a total of 900 spoiled during shipment and were destroyed. The inference was that cooks properly on the job would have preented botulinus poisoning in those out-

KIMBALL GRAND PIANOS

IN every residence or apartment-large or small—the attractiveness and "atmosphere" of the interior depend more on the piano than on anything in the decorative scheme.

KIMBALL Pianos-through their rare beauty of design and rich purity of tone-have added an indispensable note of refinement and distinction to thousands of homes. In the large and medium-sized Grands-in the Small Grand, designed for apartments of limited size -and in the Uprights, this supreme standard of excellence is maintained, although the prices are very reasonable.

The marvelous KIMBALL Reproducing Grand is a worthy example of KIMBALL quality. Through the Welte* principle the artist's personality is as vividly revealed as if he were actually at the keyboard. Style 36 (medium size) is shown above.

Can you not come today and hear De Pachmann, Josef Hofmann, Narinska, or any other pianist whose playing you particularly enjoy?

Faber Out of Luck in Opener.

Game No. 1 terminated disastrously for Urban "Red" Faber's record, because of a slight miscalculation by Maurice Archdeacon. The little speed merchant misjudged Ward's fly ball that went for a homer with two on, and then an error by McClellan gave the champs another run. Without these mishaps, Faber might have dodged all semblance of scoring in the early in nings and a home run by Schang with Pipp on base in the eighth wouldn't have been enough to offset the three runs she Sox had scraped from Joe Bush's delivery.

No errors of omission or commission figured in the second defeat, however. The Yanks simply stepped out and the Yanks simply stepped out and versity faculty. champs another run. Without these

Then Mike Cvengros endeavored to stop the butchery, and he did, but not until after Ruth had smacked that thirty-first homer into the right field seats. first homer into the right field seats.

Mike followed that bump by hurling six good rounds and meanwhile the Sox were hard at work whittling down that

When Cvengros came on for his re-lief attempt Ruth was at bat for the second time in the inning and Witt inef attempt Ruth was at bat for the second time in the inning and Witt and Dugan were on the sacks. Seven runs were already across the plate and Ruth himself had driven one of these home with a double in his previous appearance. Then the Bambino slapped one of Mike's portside foolers into the right field seats. Later he drew a pass and scored in a double steal with Meusel. That was one of the two runs by which the Yanks won. The other was contributed by Sam Jones, one of the Yank hurling quartet, who drove the ball into the left field bleachers in the ninth with Ted. Lyons on the hill.

In the first game Ruth was considerably distressed by the pitching of Faber. The star swatsmith was upfour times against the veteran spitballer and in the first three attempts he died swinging at a third strike. The fourth time he lifted a foul back of the plate. They knocked four of them in, in the cleanest kind of style, and then allowed the man with the tying run to be caught between second and third and run down, when either he should have camped safely on second or else made a run for it and been safely stowed away at third, where one more blow would have knotted the count. It was a bad bit of base running. The boys had scored two runs, had the needed all three of the runs on the bases to tie the count, and Charley Hollocher was at bat. He punched a single to right field. A man scored, jogging. Cotter, on second, ran to third, hesitated, then saw the ball slightly fumbled in right field and scooted on home. Statz, who was on first, had rounded second, then saw that Cotter had hesitated at third, so he pulled up between the bases and was trapped and run down.

Yellow Cab

Yellow Cab is nine years old this week, and we feel entitled to a little celebration. During those nine busy and earnest years, we think we have accomplished something for Chicago, for our stockholders and our employees.

We have rescued the people from the dismal traditions of the cab trade and driven the roughneck driver to the woods-we have built a great cab system and cab service and set an example which the whole world is trying to follow-we have covered Chicago to its limits, like a blanket, and created a fine body of 6,000 industrious, courteous, efficient and honest drivers something that never previously existed.

We have built 14 garages and 127 cab stands and stations for public convenience, so that you can telephone and get a cab anywhere in the city limits within a few minutes; have created cabs which are models of comfort, cleanliness, strength and long life; we have originated a system of street signals which has belped to slow down the traffic and reduce the percentage of accidents. So successful have the signals proved, that the city is figuring on installing them throughout the loop at once.

By far the most serious problem we have faced has been that of collisions and speed accidents for these nine years, and we have tried in every way we know how to cut down on them. We have known for a long time that the extreme speed of the traffic was the bugbear.

We have been advertising for the last two years asking the authorities to slow traffic down, and now Chief Collins is doing the job well. Since the reduction of speed, our own accidents have been reduced over 50 per cent. And now we can ask for the accident reports of the previous day without having cold shivers run up and down our spine before we see the actual damage reported.

A fact worthy of note is that Chicago is the only city in the union which has been operating on a 20-cents-a-mile basis for the past four or five years, and it is the fountain-head of the great taxi-cab revolution which has taken place, universally, in the past nine years. The operation of the Yellow Cab, right here at home, led directly to the creation of the Yellow Cab Mfg. Co., which has not only made and sold cabs and our own cab system of operation to 10,000 towns and cities of America, but has also placed the same cab and cab service in England, France, Russia, China, Japan, South America, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Spain and Italy.

All this, as we say, started right here in Chicago with the creation and operation of Yellow Cab, and you people of Chicago are responsible for this great world-wide transportation boom because of the magnificent support you gave

We feel that cab service is an integral part of this city, and its tremendous transportation problem. And we are trying in every way we know how to make the service more creditable every day.

On this, our birthday, we want to thank you, our fellow citizens, for the wonderful support we have received from you.

Yellow Cab of Chicago is not financially interested in any other taxi-cab company in the world

Very respectfully,

"That's your affair. They intend to leave you out of this side showhat is, you will have no share in all they've got out of Slakeham's house might and all they can get out of his banking account tomorrow. I should hink, Mr. Barratt, that if you can bring yourself to plan the murder of one man and the unjust imprisonment of another, you can do a third piece of irty work and betray the people who have already betrayed you. Howver, as I say, that's your affair."

little progress, haven't I?" What's the offer?"

Slakeham reflected for a moment

"I'll make you an offer. Don't try to haggle-you'll do it for this or will not do it at all. Five thousand pounds if you'll supply evidence enough get the case reopened with an official inquiry. Ten thousand pounds when Slakeham is pardoned. Fifteen thousand in all. Is it good enough? Yes-if I can collect it," answered Barratt doubtfully.

"I'll give you no guarantee. You'll just have to take my word for it." "I didn't mean that," said Barratt. "You've got a rough tongue, but 've too much horse sense to waste time, and I'm willing to take your d. But it'll be difficult to earn. I might get my fingers burnt." "You'll have to risk that to a certain extent. If you can do it without ating yourself, so much the better. You can spend the five thousand in having a good time and buy yourself an annuity with the ten thousand. That would bring you in probably a little over five hundred a year for life." "O, I know all that!" spapped Barratt. "But I haven't got enough ect evidence of my own. It's unsupported. There's Mabel, the woman-the saw everything—and I could back her up by what I've seen since." "Very well, get hold of her. It will be your affair. I'm not going to ay both of you."

For a moment Slakeham felt as if an iron band were tightening about it's the spirit of adventure, the feeling the high seas.

You can find her?" he demanded.

"I don't know her address. Dickson has got it, though."

It did not, he reflected, matter so much after all. If he had the girl before n now and her evidence were completely satisfactory, no action could be en before his bond to Warder Stedding would have to be released. "How do I get in touch with you?" asked Barratt. 'Through Duffield, Slakeham's butler."

Barratt made a note. Barratt made a note.
"I'll try what I can do with Dickson—and I'll try what I can do with while we can.

"What's the matter with your face?" he heard Barratt demand of "Don't talk to him, his heart's broken," said Carside. "His beloved Slakeham, stooping on the sill so that he could hear every word, grunted with satisfaction. This revelation would prove to Barratt at least one of the coints in their conversation. There still remained the peril that the two rooks would tell him about the impersonation of Lord Slakeham. That would be dangerous, as it might bring Barratt back to their side.

Dickson was becoming voluble about the disappearance of Cecily, but was saying nothing of importance. Barratt laughed gruffly.
"Well, where do I come in?" he demanded. "You don't think I've ducted her, do you?" "My dear fellow, there's surely nothing to get huffy about!" protested ckson—it was a phrase constantly upon his lips. "We've come to you make you, if any one, will be able to find her."

"Where's the hurry?" countered Barratt. "As things are, it seems to me she's as well out of the way as in it." Slakeham gripped the drain pipe in readiness for a quick descent. This was the critical point. If they were to confess now about the impersona-

"Waiting for nothing!" repeated Dickson. "My dear fellow, it only shows how hasty you are. If you'd given me time to explain, I would have given you an important piece of news. Tonight—since seeing you last—there has been an important development."

Slakeham waited breathlessly.

"Cough it up!" demanded Barratt.

"It'll take him half an hour!" cut in Carside contemptuously. "All he means is that we've located the old man's bag. It's with Sir Richard Culhame. He's an uncle or something of Slakeham's."

"Go on." said Barratt. "I'm still waiting."

"Waiting!" cried Dickson. "That's the news, boy!"

"It would have kept till morning." said Barratt. "Anything else?"

"Can't you see, man!" exploded Dickson. "The game's as good as ron! I'm going round tomorrow to see this old duffer and prove I'm the quardian. If he won't hand over, I'll get an order of the court compelling that the result is to give it may be a see that the result with Carside and there you to give it up. "It's my belief she has done nothing of the sort," snapped Barratt scornfully. "It's my belief that I saw her coming out of Cook's last Tuesday with a pamphiet labeled 'Paris'—and it's my belief that when she went to the parson next day it was to get him to fill up her passport papers."

"Smoke of the prophet!" exclaimed Dickson, aghast.

"Do you want a few more of my beliefs?" continued Barratt. "A girl "Do you want a few more of my beliefs?" continued Barratt. "A girl anding in Paris who can't speak French either goes to one of three hotels or landing in Paris who can't speak French either goes to one of their homes until spicked up by a vigilance society and is kept in one of their homes until some nice, elderly relative comes and claims her."

"There you are!" exclaimed Dickson to Carside. "I knew Barratt could do it."

Shuberts Abandon Plan

BERLIN, July 28.—The Shubert heater agent announces that the Shu-perts have canceled their plans to prouce revues and buy or build theaters in Germany, owing to attacks in the press. After an announcement that the Shuberts were coming to Berlin many newspapers published warnings to actors and chorus girls that the Shuberts mistreated actresses, paid badly, did not pay for rehearsal time, and generally did not deal with artists as did European managers. Several newspapers invited the Shuberts to renforms them, is accepted.

ioner Bird S. Coler, head o the New York City department of public welfare, says defective children are the offspring of neurasthenic and overworked mothers, and that children born with mental defects and deformities are on the increase everywhere.

"A number of causes are recognized among neurologists and psychologists," says the welfare commissioner. The stress and speed of modern life are known to cause a good deal of neurasthenia among women. Neurasthenia means deranged glands, and women who suffer from this complaint are known to bear unsound and often defective children.

"Also," he says, "it is one of the accepted doctrines of modern science that women seldem have the strength to engage in economic life and at the mme time peer children Our clinics show that many defects are born peculiarly a menace to health and to by the nervous affections, the wasted mong poor mothers, who are upset race life for mothers or potential muscular energy, and general moral ecause of changed environment or are mothers may well be forbidden by law. and physical and mental flabbiness ong first generation foreigners."

The Mervyn was flagship of the Chicago Yacht club until recently. then it was destroyed by fire. It was serious loss, but Dr. Baum philosophically took unto himself the White Marsh, a fine specimen of the destroyer type, of all steel construction, with oil burning engines and a wide cruising radius. It is a handsome and a comfortable possession now, but its new owner is looking forward to beautifying it still further.

At the present writing Dr. Baum and his family are in the east getting ready for the trip from New York back to South Haven, a trip that is to be made by the fearless quartet in the White Marsh, and which will take them through cool northern rivers, the Erie canal, the North channel, and Georgian bay, into our own lake territory. A Radical Among Radicals.

Comings is a former Blaine shouter who is against the governor this time because he deems him too conservative. He is a kindly, benevolent gentleman, 76 years old, who is classed as to enforce the Severson act for elim-ination of illicit traffic in intexicating beverages. There is no other position for an honest public official to take. It is charged that one drink of his liquor killed John Galvin of 1657 bootlegger it is the public official who winks at the illicit traffic in liquor and | Coroner Seese, who investigated the pardons the trafficker on the slighest case, postponed reading his verdict pretext."

E. Rich, 3962 Belmont avenue, is in the Gale avenue police station, charged with manslaughter and vending moon Gov. Blaine, however, has been get- physician, Dr. William D. McNally, to ting the crowds. Impartial observers make an analysis of the liquor found says he is drawing almost unprece in Galvin's stomach. Rich will be held

OVERSIZED North Shore Lots

$20 to $30 Per Foot

$250 down, balance payable over 5 years. These large, oversized lots at from $1,200 to $2,000 each, naturally create a great demand, for they are undoubtedly the greatest bargain offered in high class, beautifully wooded North Side property. We are only able to offer this property at these very low prices because of a fortunate purchase of this entire tract as acreage about a year ago at less than half of present day values.

Beautifully Wooded

Woodland Park consists of the most beautiful, heavily wooded property in any North Side suburb, divided into large, oversized lots 60x132 feet to 75x250 feet each, on land that is high and rolling, 125 feet above lake level, thickly covered with elms, oaks, ash and maples more than 50 years old, within 10 minutes' walk of the station and only 42 minutes from the Loop, 12 1/2 c fare.

This popular suburb is growing very rapidly, over 85 new homes being constructed in the past few months. Lots of an equal character in this suburb are selling rapidly at from $40 per front foot upward. You will therefore realize the importance of getting first selection at these very low introductory prices. We are not overrating this property. It must be seen to be appreciated. Will be shown by appointment only.

Canadian National Railways

41/2% Equipment Trust Gold Certificates, Series H ISSUED UNDER THE PHILADELPHIA PLAN

Due in annual installments of $625,000 each July 1, 1925 to July 1, 1939, inclusive

Dated July 1, 1924. Total Authorized issue, $9,375,000. In coupon form of $1,000 denomination, with provision for registration of principal. Dividends payable January 1 and July 1. Principal and dividends payable at the office of Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee.

The following information is furnished by Canadian National Railway Company: These $9,375,000 Certificates are issued against new railway equipment costing over $12,500,000, an initial payment of over $3,125,000 or over 25% of the cash contract cost being made.

Title to all equipment remains vested in Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee, for the benefit of the Certificate holders. The equipment is leased to the Canadian National Railways Company for rentals equal to the principal and dividends of the Certificates together with other charges, as specified in the Lease and Agreement. Under the provisions of the Statutes of Canada, the rentals payable under a lease of equipment rank as a rail-way working expenditure and constitute a claim against earnings prior to both principal and interest of mortgage debt.

The Canadian National Railways Company guarantees the payment of principal and dividend on the Equipment Trust Certificates to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, as Trustee for Certificate holders. The Railway Company operates a trans-continental railway system across Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean. All of the capital stock of the Company is owned by the Government of the Dominion of Canada.

43 Years 100% Safe Established

% First Mortgage Bonds $200,000 secured by

Sheridan ~ Estes. Capartments

THESE bonds will appeal to those who have not yet placed their funds for July investment. To those who are not already Cochran & McCluer investors this issue offers a splendid introduction to its service.

The Sheridan-Estes Apartments are located in a residential section recognized as having no superior in the city. Just off of Sheridan Road, the map emphasizes the proximity of this building to Lake Michigan. In spite of its many advantages, however, this building is being constructed by its owners with the idea of offering its apartments at moderate rentals—it is only on buildings of this type that Cochran & McCluer Company have loaned. It has avoided as security apartments of the expensive type and other highly specialized properties where incomes are unreliable. The success of this policy is best evidenced by a record of 43 Years 100% Safe—never a foreclosure on a bond issue.

If you purchase one or more of these Sheridan-Estes Bonds before August 1st you pay only par and receive the benefit of all interest accruing since July 2nd absolutely without cost. This means you receive practically a whole month's interest at 7% free. It's worth real money to act now. Denominations $500 and $1,000 on cash or payment plan. Cut out this advertisement—send it or bring it with you before Aug. 1. No Salesman Will Call-Our investment business has always been direct. We have no salesmen, therefore none will call.

The circular describing the Sheridan-Estes Apartments is the hand-somest of its kind. You should have a copy whether you are in the market at the present time or not. Write or phone for your copy or call for a friendly discussion.

and Subsidiary GENERAL LEATHER COMPANY, NEWARK, N. J.

To the Stockholders of the

REYNOLDS SPRING COMPANY AT THE stockholders special meeting held in Wilmington, Delaware, June 26, the plan for the acquisition of the entire common stock of the General Leather Company in Newark, New Jersey, was approved. More than 85% of the outstanding stock of your Company was voted either by proxy or in person in favor of the resolution to absorb the General Leather Company by the increase of the common capital stock of your Company. The dividend on the common stock of your Company is payable on August 1, 1924 to stockholders of record July 10 and dividend checks will be mailed by the American Trust Company of New York City. You will note from the consolidated balance sheet that your Company is in an excellent financial position. Having current assets of $2,430,-092.61, current liabilities of $137,190.38 and cash on hand $710,290.50.

The audit of the books of your Company by Messrs. Barrow, Wade, Guthrie & Co., showing its condition on June 30, 1924 is as follows:

SECOND QUARTER—Net before Depreciation and Federal Income Tax $142,255.99. Federal Taxes $13,038.73. Depreciation $28,048.57. Net Income $101,168.69.

Your Management and the Directorate concur in the belief that the diversified interests of your Company will make the earnings much less dependent on one industry. A large percentage of the General Leather Company's product now goes to the shoe, bag and strap industry. The Bakelite and hot mold division is growing very rapidly and there is at present work under way that will more than double the capacity of this unit. We have recently received some very large contracts from the leaders of the radio and electrical field.

On July 11 the Listing Committee of the New York Stock Exchange approved the listing of the 210,548 shares of additional common stock of your Company which were issued in exchange for the entire common capital stock of the General Leather

Your directors are pleased to advise that more stockholders are beginning to visit their factories at both Newark, N. J. and Jackson, Mich., and the management hopes that all stockholders will at their earliest opportunity go through their plants. Respectfully submitted, WILEY R. REYNOLDS President
